Advisory Group for Women’s Apparel

The Women’s Apparel Advisory Group serves as an advisory body to the leadership of Auxiliary Services for regularly reviewing women’s apparel offerings, and to make recommendations for possible changes. The group concerns itself primarily with broad product lines and programs related to women’s apparel offerings on campus. The charge includes specifically:

1. Promote an inclusive and welcoming environment in support of women students, faculty, and staff and in alignment with university strategic goals and Portrait 2035. This shall be done through a review of products and services and by advising on possible changes.

2. Provide guidance to apparel buyers regarding broad product lines and general designs. Specific style selection for inventory will be the purview of the staff buyers.

3. Meet no less than four times per year.

4. Provide a written report of activities, recommendations, concerns, and accomplishments to the Assistant Vice President for Administration twice a year in June and December.

This group will consist of faculty, staff, Presidential Council of Alumnae (PCA) member(s), graduate students and undergraduate students invited by the Assistant Vice President for Administration. Auxiliary Services and/or Merchandising staff shall convene the meetings and serve in an ex-officio capacity.
