Writing Center Numbers

Total Number of Visits: 14,010
Total Number of Individual Users: 887
86.4% Undergraduate
13.6% Graduate
54% Domestic
46% International

60% of students who used the Writing Center on a weekly basis came for a general education course.

Retention

First-year students with weekly Writing Center appointments had a 26% higher retention rate than their cohort with less than 19 verbal ACT scores.

Staff Diversity

Coaches who are non-majority students in terms of racial or hybrid identity, international, multilingual, non-traditional, GLBT: 36%
Coaches who are non-majority and/or female: 81%

Majors represented on staff
3 Business and Economics
13 Engineering
12 Sciences and Arts
6 RTC Graduate Students

Writing Coaches’ Honors/Awards/Recognition
3 presenters at East Central Writing Centers Association
Beta Gamma Sigma International Business Honor Society
Beta Gamma Sigma Scholarship Award
Dean’s List
Klein Creative Writing Award
Noyce Teaching Scholarship Award
Outstanding Woman in Business Award
Provost’s Award for Scholarship in the Humanities
Summer Undergraduate Research Fellowship (SURF)
Winter Carnival Queen

Writing Center Usage by Class Standing

World Cultures Study Teams

25% of World Cultures students enrolled on a study team. Students on a study team earned:
- 21% higher rate of A’s
- 54% lower rate of F’s

Other Measures of Effectiveness

Average student evaluation of individual appointments: 4.75
Average student evaluation of study teams: 4.65
(On a 5.0 scale)

Graduate Student Usage by College

- College of Engineering: 57%
- School of Business and Economics: 29%
- College of Sciences and Arts: 11%
- School of Forest Resources and Environmental Science: 3%